The questions you have raised do not apply to the way this Trust operates, as we do not have courier contracts, as I have explained below.

The Tavistock and Portman NHS Foundation Trust is a specialist mental health Trust which provides outpatient psychotherapy services in-day clinic environments. The Trust does not have any general or mental health hospitals and does not provide acute services.

Trust courier usage is minimal, and when required is booked on an-as needs basis with a taxi/biker service, called Green Tomatoes.

The name of the person responsible for the management of our Taxi/biker account is Udey Choudhury, Deputy Finance Director, who may be reached via UChowdhury@Tavi-Port.nhs.uk

We do not hold separate data on the cost/number of courier trips as these are very minimal and are coded to our travel costs account. To manually extract these costs from other travel would exceed the time/cost limit of this FOI, as laid down by statute.
