Hi [REDACTED]

Do you need me to resend the calendar invite for your meeting on Thursday?

This is a introductory session exploring neurodiversity and supporting neurodivergent colleagues (and by extension patients), it is aimed at all levels of the organisation and anyone who has an interest in learning more about neurodiversity. Below is a blurb for the session:

Conversations around neurodiversity are so often framed around challenges or gaps. In this webinar, we reshape this discussion of neurodiversity to understand the strengths neurodivergent colleagues can bring to a workplace.

What will you learn:

- What is meant by the terms neurodiverse and neurotypical?
- Attitudes and barriers that are faced by neurodivergent people in employment and the workplace
- Neurodiversity as an asset to your organisation

How to accommodate and support your neurodiverse colleagues so that they can work to the best of their abilities

Hi [REDACTED]

Hope your well. Could I kindly ask for a description of what this training is, the need for it in the workplace and who it is aimed for, I want to send to the COMMS team to promote and it would be helpful to advertise this with information you will find relevant.

Are we still good for our meeting next week Thursday? for some reason it won't show up my calendar, so I just want to confirm it.

[REDACTED] is back from annual leave so he can finalise a date for the Microsoft edge training too.

Kind Regards
