Hello,

It's July already! Not sure where this year is going but its been fun. I've seen loads of amazing work being done this year and I excited to see how much will be achieved in the months to come.

Are you ready for National Inclusion Week 2023?

As a member, you are automatically registered for National Inclusion Week (NIW) and can access resources to help you plan your week here.

Let us take the stress out of planning with our in-house NIW webinars. We'd love to be part of your week and have put together an exciting in-house training package to engage your workforce. These can also be run in-person if preferred, and full information is available on our National Inclusion Week training packages page. Alternatively, if you would like for us to discuss some bespoke options, please do let me know!

On the topic of professional development and training opportunities...

Did you know Inclusive Employers run drama-based training?

Drama-based learning is a highly effective experiential learning approach that uses forum theatre, a technique in which actors play out scenes and the audience has permission to stop the scene, discuss it and then redirect it towards an alternative outcome.

We like our clients to work closely with us in developing scripts and sessions plans to ensure that the context of the learning is relevant to our delegates but not too reflective of internal challenges. If you are interested in booking some of this empathy and connection-based training, reach out to us today.

Early news – we are launching a new CMI Level 7 qualification

In August we are launching a new addition to our Chartered Management Institute (CMI) qualification portfolio. We already offer Inclusion Qualifications from Level 4 to Level 6.

The new level 7 qualification in Strategic Approaches to Equality, Diversity & Inclusion is aimed at organisational decision-makers. It provides an in-depth understanding of EDI at a strategic level. The strategic focus of this unit may also be appealing to Senior EDI Professionals.

What to hear more about the new course? Just email students@inclusiveemployers.co.uk and ask for an information sheet.

Make an impact and help us provide an even better Inclusioneeers Conference for 2024!

On the 05th July 2023 we hosted our Inclusioneers Conference 2023 at Stamford Bridge. If you or your team joined us on the day, we would love for you to provide us some feedback using our Inclusioneers Conference 2023 feedback survey. Your feedback will help us make key decisions for our next conference, as it's a chance for you to tell us what you'd like to see next year.

Remember: New events are published every month. Check out our latest events and book your places for 2023. See all upcoming inclusion and diversity awareness dates on our Diversity Calendar.

If you or people in your organisation are not receiving our emails and newsletters:

Please check your spam/junk folder as sometimes our emails get redirected there. We also advise checking with your IT team to confirm that Inclusive Employers has been added to your company's domain allowed list as your firewall might be blocking emails. They may also need to add our delivery IP addresses – which we can provide to them on request.

This month's recorded webinar is a two for one!

Each month we share one recorded webinar to provide an opportunity for anyone unable to attend the live session to catch up and feel part of the Inclusive Employers community. If you were able to join us, please consider this your chance to brush up on any notes you may have taken.

This month we are sharing Celebrating Autism and Bringing the National Inclusion Week Daily Actions to Life which are both available until 09th August 2023

If you're keen, we are looking for sponsors for NIW 2023, check out what the benefits to your organisation could be.

We'd love to hear about how you engage with the free monthly webinar recordings. Complete this short survey and let us know your thoughts!

As always just let me know if there is anything you want to know more about or any specific questions you have. I will be on annual leave from 21st July to 28th July so if you have any urgent questions please do let me know this week.

Best wishes
